

DELTA LEADERSHIP PROGRAM

The Delta Protection Commission, in partnership with the Delta Regional Foundation, created the Delta Leadership Program as an effort for sustained leadership development within the Delta community. With the challenges facing the Delta today, it is clearly in the Delta's interest to cultivate the best in our existing leadership and to assist in the development of informed and energetic leaders for the Delta's future.

FOUNDATION

Program Overview

The Delta Leadership Program features a five-day intensive curriculum completed over the course of five months (one business day per month). Each workshop is integrated with half of the day spent on regional issues such as water and agriculture, public safety and economic development; and the other half spent on skill development such as negotiation, innovation, team building, values and organizational momentum.

Modeled after other successful community leadership programs, the program features expert presenters to educate participants on key Delta issues, leadership skills and opportunities. Workshops are facilitated by Commission staff with consultant assistance.

Participation in the Delta Leadership Program is by nomination and selection. Please consider nominating individuals whom you would suggest as a potential or emerging leader in the Delta community and who would find this kind of top level development and networking opportunity to be valuable.

We encourage nominations from all walks of Delta life – agriculture, law enforcement, local business, non-profit organizations, local and regional government, tourism and hospitality sectors, recreation providers and others.

Class size will be limited to ensure a dynamic, effective experience for participants.
